1. I spent an hour with Dr. [REDACTED] in preparation for his Management Seminar at [REDACTED] which is scheduled to begin on 12 June. I agreed to go down and to participate in the opening of the course. If possible, I will plan to go down on Sunday afternoon and return Monday afternoon.

2. I had lunch with Jim Garrison, who sought guidance as to what he should do about recovering as much of the [REDACTED] stocks as he could and about replenishing and balancing out our stockpile. I told Jim that I had no indication whatever that this Agency was going to be out of the [REDACTED] business and that in the absence of such guidance he should continue to maintain his stockpiles in the same way that he has done in the past.

3. I talked to Larry Houston at some length about the transfer of the NIS and BR Programs from the Department of State to CIA. He is of the opinion that Mr. Meloy of the Civil Service Commission will rule in our favor. We agreed that we should show no inclination to compromise with the Department, even though in the final analysis we might have to do so.
